It is the quickest transport mode and is therefore ideal for long-distance transport of goods. It takes less time.

Air transportation offers convenient, reliable and fast services of transport. It is considered the cheapest way to ship peregrinated goods. It offers a standard, convenient, reliable and fast service.

Air exports, in general, entail less hard packaging than ocean shipments. This ensures you save both time and money by not having to provide extra packaging services.

DISADVANTAGE

- Risky
- Cost
- Some Product Limitation
- Capacity for Small Carriage
- Enormous investment

Air travel is the riskiest mode of transport, since there can be considerable losses to goods, customer and crews as a result of a minor crash. Compared to other means of travel, the risks of collisions are higher.

There is a whole variety of materials not suitable for such products, from explosives, gases, batteries, fired solids and liquids, which cannot be shipped by air to name but a few.

The aircraft have no room and therefore are not ideal for carriage of voluminous and cheaper materials. As is seen for rails, the load volume cannot be raised.

Air travel calls for enormous spending in aerodrome building and servicing. It also calls for professional, qualified and qualified staff that need a significant investment.

Conclusion

- Air transport means that goods can be transported anywhere in the world quickly and reliably. Unlike sea or road transport, the air transport service does not have barriers, or if they do, they are found in extreme weather conditions or in the trade agreements between countries.

For those businesses that sell valuable or perishable products in the international market, air transport is the best option to be able to transport your merchandise in the shortest possible time.
